

Wyoming History Resources

A compendium of websites and museums about Wyoming History that may be useful to teachers at various grade levels, created by Kathy Christensen, Natrona County School District #1, and Kathy Scheurman, Wyoming Education Association. Disclaimer: The authors of this document, the Wyoming Education Association, and Natrona County School District #1 do not endorse any of the sources or resources listed in this document, and do not attest to the reliability or accuracy of the information they provide.

WyoHistory.org: A project of the Wyoming State Historical Society.

<https://www.wyohistory.org/education> -- Huge amounts of information and resources about Wyoming history! Explore WyoHistory.org's education packages, designed for classroom use.

- <https://www.wyohistory.org/education> -- Our Digital Toolkits of Wyoming History, aimed at secondary levels and above, connect topics in Wyoming history with one of 12 overarching areas of U.S. history.
- Packages on the Oregon Trail (<https://www.wyohistory.org/education/oregon-trail>) and the Indian Wars (<https://www.wyohistory.org/education/indian-wars>) are aimed at elementary classrooms. They offer articles, maps, field-trip lesson plans, videos and interactive quizzes. All packages contain information on how the exercises meet Wyoming state social studies standards.

Wind River Education: A project funded by the Wyoming Legislature, created by Wyoming PSB.

<http://windriveredu.org/> -- Videos, lesson plans, and links to educational resources about the two Wind River Reservation tribes for teachers and students, including information on tribal government, as well as preservation of American Indian culture and heritage.

Lived History - The Wind River Virtual Museum: created by Wyoming PBS.

<http://www.windrivervm.org/> -- Lived History documents the creation of a high definition video 'virtual museum' of ancestral artifacts, currently stored in museum collections sometimes far from their places of origin, for the Eastern Shoshone and Northern Arapaho tribes.

Wyoming State Museum Discovery Trunks.

<http://wyomuseum.state.wy.us/Learn/DiscoveryTrunk.aspx> -- The Discovery Trunk Program is part of the Wyoming State Museum's education outreach service. Each trunk contains hands-on reproduction artifacts and a Teacher's Guide (including lesson plans, a description of the artifacts, student activities and bibliography). The Museum has trunks on the following subjects:

- The Frontier Army
- The Mountain Man
- The Plains Indians
- Wyoming Trails
- Wyoming Archaeology

Wyoming State Museum School Programs.

<http://wyomuseum.state.wy.us/Learn/Programs.aspx>

- Tours. Bring your class to the Wyoming State Museum for a history lesson they will never forget! All education programs presented at the Wyoming State Museum are directly tied to Wyoming Department of Education Content & Performance Standards.

We recommend that you contact us at least three weeks in advance to schedule your visit. Scheduling your visit ahead of time helps us plan programs specific to your needs and helps control the number of students in the museum at one time. Various on-site and off-site programs are available for every age group pre-K through 12.

- Planning Your Class Visit to Wyoming's Capitol City. It's an exciting time in Cheyenne as we watch the restoration and renovation of the Wyoming State Capitol and Herschler Building. With that said, however, we also understand that the closure of the Capitol Building greatly impacts field trips to the Capitol Complex in Cheyenne. Although the Capitol is closed, and will remain closed for the duration of the project, we still invite you to bring your class to visit and experience the sites and processes of Wyoming's Capitol Complex – home to Wyoming's Executive, Legislative, and Judicial branches – either individually or in any combination. In order to assist you with planning your next classroom visit, here are some field trip options. Programs include:
 - Wyoming State Capitol (via The Wyoming State Capitol exhibit and program at the State Museum)
 - Wyoming State Legislature
 - Wyoming Supreme Court
 - Wyoming State Museum
 - Wyoming Historic Governors' Mansion

To learn more about these various programs, to view the standards and benchmarks, and to schedule your visit, please visit <http://wyospcr.state.wy.us/CapitolComplex/index.html>. The website also provides programs, lesson plans, and resources for use in your classroom if you're unable to visit the Capitol Complex.

- Virtual programs. For a listing of current virtual programs, please visit the Wyoming State Museum's Microsoft Education partner page: <https://education.microsoft.com/Status/Content/Public?token=SqyAto61>. We realize that many classrooms in Wyoming are unable to access Skype/Skype for Business. For this reason, the Wyoming State Museum offers virtual programming via Google Hangouts and other video conferencing platforms. Programs may be customized to your needs and may also be offered in conjunction with your use of the Museum's Discovery Trunks: <http://wyomuseum.state.wy.us/Learn/DiscoveryTrunk.aspx>.
